SEVEN JAPANESE KILLED IN FRONTIER CLASH WITH MONGOLS

CASUALTY FIGURES OFFICIAL LISTS PUBLISHED

Only 775 Italian Natives Killed
MORE SUBMISSIONS CLAIMED

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL
Rome, To-day.

According to official war bulletin No. 121, Marshal Badoglio reported that there is no news of importance on either front, but that another Abyssinian chieftain, Fitaurari Dada Gebremichin, who is commander of the Sechet region and a cousin of Ras Gugsa, made his submission, together with 200 warriors.

The first list of casualties of the native troops was issued here yesterday. The total number of native soldiers killed on both the Abyssinian fronts since the outbreak of the war is given as 775.

FRENCH SEAPLANE STILL MISSING

Paris, To-day.
The hopes of finding the seaplane Villa de Buenos Aires are vanishing. There is no trace so far of the machine.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

MISLEADING REPORT
Addis Ababa: The official Italian War bulletin, dated February 10, which states that up to that date a total of 844 Italian soldiers had been killed in the war, is characterised as a "deplorable attempt to mislead the Italian people," in an official announcement here.

MR. HU HAN-MIN UNDECIDED

Making Sure Of His Ground

DEPARTURE WOULD BE LOSS TO SOUTH-WEST

(From Our Own Correspondent)
Canton, To-day.

General Pai Hsueh-hsi, the Kwangsi military leader, will shortly come to Canton to consult Mr. Hu Han-min on political questions. The veteran Kuomintang leader is in normal health, being called upon by various political leaders from other parts of the country.

Mr. Hu has cancelled his trip to Nanking, as his terms of co-operation have not yet been accepted by General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan. Mr. Hu co-operated with General Chiang Kai-shek on two different occasions, and each time they parted in difficulties. Now Mr. Hu wants to make sure of his bearings before he goes to Nanking again.

Another cause for his stay is that high officials here want Mr. Hu to remain in Canton. The Party leader is the main pillar of the South-west quasi-independent regime, and his withdrawal will seriously affect the position here.

FORTHCOMING WEDDING

The forthcoming wedding is announced Mr. John William Woodard, Fire Brigade Officer, attached to the Central Fire Station, and Miss Eugenia Vasily Vaginskaya, of No. 7, Hankow Road, Kowloon.

Sir Herbert Samuel, former High Commissioner to Palestine, right, and Viscount Beatty, British oil magnate, left, will confer in New York with prominent American Jews on the proposal of the German Government for the wholesale migration of the Jewish population to Palestine with their possessions to go out in the form of German goods.

EMBARGO ON OIL MEETING AT GENEVA

U.S. CO-OPERATION NECESSARY
EFFECTS WOULD BE SEEN IN 3 1/2 MONTHS

Geneva, To-day.

The report of the committee of oil experts to the Committee of Eighteen, published last night, states that the committee is of the opinion that if the oil sanctions are universally applied against Italy they will take about 3 1/2 months to become effective.

In the event of all the League members applying the embargo it will be effective if the United States limits the exports to Italy to the normal level prior to 1935. Without United States co-operation the embargo will only result in the purchase of petrol by Italy becoming more difficult and expensive.

The report suggests that the embargo should include industrial alcohol and benzol in order to prevent the use of substitutes for motor spirit.

The most practical form of a transport embargo would be a prohibition against the sale of tankers to States not applying the embargo.

Copies of the report are being rushed by air to all the capitals. It is expected that the Committee of Eighteen will meet at Geneva on March 2 to announce their decision.—Reuter.

FREAK WEATHER CONDITIONS

Reported All Over The World

London, To-day.

Freak weather conditions are reported from all parts of the world. Owing to the continued cold in Rumania wolves have invaded the outlying villages and a considerable amount of livestock has been killed by them.

Over the border in Bulgaria a blizzard caused a collision between a passenger train and a goods train, in which five people were killed and 15 injured. In Venice three boatmen were frozen to death on the famous lagoon.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

STILL SOME HOPES LONDON NAVAL PARLEY

Discussion On Size Of Battleships
FRANCE PROPOSES A COMPROMISE

London, To-day.

Despite the reports that agreement has virtually been reached at the Naval Conference on a 35,000-ton battleship, it is learned that the French are still hopeful of the adoption of a lower limit and are suggesting a compromise whereby each Power is allowed to build two 35,000-ton ships to counter-balance the vessels of this size at present being built in France and Italy.

A solution along these lines might possibly commend itself temporarily to the United States, but the Americans are making it quite clear that it will not be accepted permanently.—Reuter.

GUNS MAY BE REDUCED

London: As a result of 90 minutes' conversation yesterday afternoon between the British and American delegations to the Naval Conference, it is understood that it was virtually agreed to retain 35,000-ton battleships, but guns may be reduced to 14 inches. The drafting committee had two further meetings, and is expected to conclude its task to-morrow.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

NEW AIR MAIL SERVICE

INAUGURATED BY CHINESE PLANE

Shanghai, To-day.

Inaugurating the weekly Sino-French air mail service, a China National Aviation Corporation air-liner this morning left for Hanoi, where the mail is being transferred to an Air France machine, to be delivered in Paris on February 24. A passenger service by the same route will be starting shortly, according to an arrangement already come to between the two services.—Reuter.

GOODWILL FLIGHT CONTINUES

Shanghai, to-day.—The British Air Attache at Shanghai announces that the R.A.F. Short flying-boats from Singapore, engaged on a goodwill flight to Japan, left for Manila from Kudat at 6.25 a.m. to-day.—Reuter.

ARRIVAL AT MANILA

Manila, Later: The flying-boats appeared over Manila at 1 p.m. and were met by an escort of four U.S. Navy flying boats. They circled over the city at a low altitude and then alighted at 1.08 p.m. Commodore Smith and the other officers were met by the Consul-General, Mr. A. P. Blunt, and prominent members of the British colony, Filipinos and Americans.

The airmen expect to stay two or three days. They left Kudat at 6.40 this morning, and encountered perfect flying conditions all the way.—Reuter.

FAMOUS U.S. ACTRESS PASSES

Beaulieu, To-day.—The death has occurred of the famous American actress, Cora Brown-Potter.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

Our map shows where the Manchukuo-Mongolian forces under Japanese leadership, pushing deep into Inner Mongolia, have seized Fengchen, an important centre on the Peiping-Suiyuan railway which taps the huge mining area in Suiyuan province. This Japanese activity is cited in the plea of Premier V. M. Molotov (right) for a huge increase in the Soviet's budget for national defence.

PARCEL POST INCREASE AT LOWER RATES

8,000,000 More Reported

London, To-day.

The Postmaster-General, Major Tryon, in a Parliamentary reply stated that in the first six months, ending December 31 last, during which the new parcel post rates reduction had been in operation, the number of parcels carried had increased by 8,000,000 as compared with the corresponding period of 1934, an increase of about 10 per cent.—British Wireless Service.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK

East-Side Building Gutted

CHURCH PARTY TRAPPED IN RESTAURANT

New York, To-day.

At least three men and one woman were killed and more than 30 injured, some of whom are not expected to recover, as the result of a fire in an east-side building.

The blaze started in a shop on the ground floor and spread to a Chinese restaurant, which was crowded and was plunged into confusion. The guests included 150 participants in a church function. Some people were injured when leaping from windows.

The fire raged for an hour before it was controlled. The building was gutted. The work of the members of the ambulance and the fire brigade was watched by a huge crowd.—Reuter.

FATAL HOTEL FIRE

Three Killed And 20 Injured

Lakewood, N.J., To-day.

At least three people were killed and 20 injured, seven of them seriously, in an hotel fire in the early morning yesterday. The guests were still in bed and the victims were trapped in their rooms. The frozen water supply hampered the firemen.

The guests who escaped in their night clothes, by jumping from their room windows, found themselves in an almost Arctic temperature. The hotel, which was built of wood, was burnt out.—Reuter.

LEITH-ROSS MISSION

Proposed Visit To Canton

EXPERT WILL ALSO GO TO NANNING

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.

Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, the British monetary expert, who is aboard the Taikoo steamer Tai Yuan for Hong Kong, will visit Canton and Nanning, provincial capital of Kwangsi. After his investigation of South China, Sir Frederick will continue his residence in Shanghai.

Tokyo reports state that the British economist will return to England via Japan and will confer with Japanese officials on the Chinese economic situation. Confirmation of such dispatches is unavailable, while Chinese quarters in Shanghai state that Sir Frederick will not go to Japan in the near future.

The British expert is credited with having played an important part in the nationalisation of Chinese silver in Nanking. The managed currency has the effect of improving British imports in China and of decreasing the sale of Japanese goods in this country. In any case, the new currency is raising commodity prices and helping to revive prosperity.

Mr. T. V. Soong, President of the National Reconstruction Committee, and Dr. H. H. King, Minister of Finance, are stated to be responsible for inviting Sir Frederick to China.

China's managed currency is severely criticised in Japan, and the movements and activities of Sir Frederick Leith-Ross have received considerable attention from Japanese officials in China and Tokyo.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Chicago Publisher As Candidate

Boston, To-day.

The Chicago publisher, Colonel Frank Knox, is standing as the Republican candidate for the Presidency. Nonfunction papers have been filled up on his behalf at Springfield, Illinois, placing his name in the ballot for the April Presidential primary elections.—Reuter.

OFFICER SHOT EIGHT MONGOLS KILLED

Harbin Conference Ends In Failure

TENSION INCREASES

Tokyo, To-day.

Another clash between Japanese and Mongols on the Manchukuo-Mongol frontier has taken place, as a result of which seven Japanese, including a Lieutenant, and eight Mongols have been killed and a number wounded on both sides, according to a communique issued by the Japanese army in Manchukuo.

Meanwhile a conference in Harbin between Mr. Ohashi, the Vice-Foreign Minister of Manchukuo, and M. Stavitsky, the Soviet Consul-General, in an attempt to settle the current differences, has ended in a complete rupture.

JAPANESE CHARGES
Hsingking: Returning from an 8-hour conference with the Soviet Consul-General, M. Stavitsky, at Harbin, the Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Ohashi, declared: "The conference ended in a complete rupture." He charged the Soviet Government with ignorance of international justice and persistent manoeuvres to disturb peace and order in Manchukuo. Mr. Ohashi feared that there was little room left for further negotiations in the face of the irresponsible Soviet statements.

BRITAIN AND MONGOLIA

QUESTION IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, To-day.

At question time in the House of Commons Mr. Anthony Eden, after briefly outlining the position in Outer Mongolia and Sinkiang, said that the question of British representation at Sinkiang would be considered in the light of Sir Eric Teichman's report.

He stated that the British connections with Outer Mongolia were so slight that the expense of maintaining official British representation there would not be justified in the present circumstances.—Reuter.

SHANGHAI STOCK EXCHANGE

Prospect Of Early Reopening

BROKERS CO-OPERATE WITH INVESTIGATORS

Shanghai, To-day.

According to the North China Daily News, optimism was expressed by several brokers at the prospect of the early reopening of the China Merchants' Stock Exchange, which was closed by the authorities for investigation of alleged speculation and manipulation. An order for the re-functioning of trading is expected early next week.

According to an official of the Exchange all brokers have furnished the investigators with a detailed account of transactions and the names of customers. They have also pledged the authorities not to let any official operate through them.—Reuter.

The charter suspension of the Socialist New York State organisation and the deposition of a group headed by Louis Waldman, left, by the National Executive Committee meeting in Philadelphia, placed the secessionist branch of the party headed by Norman Thomas, right, in control, and marks a definite swing towards the Radical Left.

FRENCH PACT WITH SOVIET

COMPATIBLE WITH COVENANT

PLAIN WARNING TO GERMANY

Paris, To-day.

M. Flandin told the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber that the Franco-Soviet pact was compatible with the League Covenant and Locarno. Therefore there was nothing to warrant Germany fortifying the demilitarised zone.

He emphasised that demilitarisation could not be dependent on any condition. "If Germany violated the Versailles Treaty in this connection France would immediately come to the Locarno guarantor Powers with a view to deciding what action to take. Such action would follow the lines of the regular League procedure.—Reuter.

MARSEILLES MURDER

Three Croats Found Guilty

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Marseilles, To-day.

The trial at Aix-en-Provence of three Croatian members of the so-called "Ustache" terrorist organisation in Yugoslavia, who were charged with having been accomplices of Kelenen, the assassin of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and the French Minister, M. Louis Barthou, ended yesterday evening with all three accused being sentenced to imprisonment for life, after the court had found them guilty of complicity in the murder and of "association with the malefactors."

The prosecution had demanded the death sentence. The alleged head of this plot, who planned the murder, the one-time Croatian Deputy Ante Pavelich, was arrested in Italy some time ago, and will have to face an Italian court.—Trans-Ocean Service.

NO BRITISH CONCESSIONS

London, to-day.—In answer to Sir Henry Pakenham at Commons question time the Colonial Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, stated that His Majesty's Government had not considered, and was not considering, handing over any field under mandate—British Wireless Service.

WARM AND FUZZY WOOLLENS

Teddy Bear Rage In Paris
SOFT AS PET RABBIT

Deliciously tweedy and rough are the winter's newest in woollens, with a look that is as out doorsy as the woods in late Fall and a feeling to the touch that is as soft as a pet white rabbit.

The very latest fabrics are interwoven with shreds of pure vegetable fibre in their native state, both as to colour and angularity, and as a class have been dubbed "Coconut" in deference to the fibre which lent itself to the first experiments in this new line. More recently, all sorts of others, particularly jute and hemp, have been found to be equally effective.

The effect produced is exactly what might be expected and exactly what the designers have been trying to achieve... something shaggy, dry, and a little rough. When the background material is in a darker shade than the fibrous interweaving the stuff has the appearance of hoar-frost on dark grass, or of a silver-white down.

Frosty Fibre
Not all of these new materials, however, have the vegetable fibre woven into a solid pattern. Many of them, such as the plaid "Karo" and "Coto," have the frosty fibre etched against them. "Chevron," for instance, is a heavy woolen with chevrons outlined in its pattern. In others, the fibre ap-

SOAKED IN SCENT

Chinese Ladies Like Lavender

English lavender water is a great favourite with young China. We have told them that all the best people in the West use it. But they have not yet learned to use it discreetly; instead, they simply soak themselves in it, writes a correspondent.

The girls are just as anxious to make themselves attractive. They have a tremendous admiration for a white skin. There is a great demand for white and flesh-coloured face powder.

After thirteen years of spreading the knowledge of the value of the uses of British-made products among the Chinese of all classes and watching the tremendous reaction the Chinese are showing to modern developments and progress, I have come to the conclusion that the time is now ripe to urge British manufacturers to revise their sales methods.

MURDER AT DAVOS

Official Swiss Statement

PRESS ACTIVITIES DEPRECIATED

CHINA MAIL—SPECIAL

Berne, To-day.

On the eve of the burial in his native city of Schwyz of Herr Wilhelm Gustloff, whose death at the hands of a Jewish assassin is mourned by the whole of the German people, the Swiss Federal Council, the Bundesrat, issued an official statement concerning the murder at Davos, where Herr Gustloff exercised his office as regional leader of the National Socialist Party in Switzerland. The official declaration reads:—"The Federal Council, in today's session, dealt with the attacks made in the newspaper Volkrecht on February 7 on the German Minister, Baron von Weizsacker, in connection with the murder of Herr Wilhelm Gustloff. Therein the diplomatic representative of the Reich is accused in an inaccurate and incorrect manner with having interfered with the internal affairs of Switzerland.

"The Bundesrat disapproves of the expressions used, which constitute a serious excess in the sense of the ruling of March 26, 1934, calculated to imperil the correct relations between Switzerland and Germany.

Press Not Blamed "As for the content of the press statement itself, the Bundesrat considers that the German Minister is by no means blamed by the Swiss press for being the intellectual cause of Herr Wilhelm Gustloff's murder, but it is merely pointed out that the unbridled personal attacks made against the deceased could have contributed to creating a psychological basis for the deed as committed by David Frankfurter. The Chief of the Swiss Political Department took note of this declaration, but at the same time allowed no doubt to remain that the Swiss authorities were obliged to reject as invalid any implication of a connection between the attitude of the Swiss press and the assassination by a foreign fanatic.

"At the same time attention is drawn to the fact that the stricter application by the Bundesrat of the press decree of 1934 in connection with the assertion of the newspaper Volkrecht had already been decided before the atrocity against Herr Wilhelm Gustloff was committed."—Trans-Ocean Service.

CHINA MAIL—SPECIAL

Madrid, To-day.

Renewed acts of violence by Left-wing Radical elements occurred in various parts of Spain on Tuesday. In Quevedo a group of Marxists shot at the Burgomaster in front of his house, wounding him dangerously. The Burgomaster of Formiche-bajo, near Teruel, who belongs to the Right-wing party, was also wounded by revolver shots when attempting to settle a dispute between political opponents.

A party of Social-Democrats and Communists at Santander destroyed a number of graves in the cemeteries of three neighbouring villages, in some cases lying the coffins bare. The police succeeded in arresting the culprits.

In Calahorra a cloister was set on fire by persons unknown. The fire was fortunately notified in time and was extinguished before any serious damage was done.—Trans-Ocean Service.

CHINA MAIL—SPECIAL

The Cheero Club weekly whist drive held on Tuesday night was a great success, there being 16 tables filled. Prizes were awarded by the following: Ladies—Mrs. Hodge, 2nd Mrs. Beattie, 1st; No. Mrs. Medina, Gentlemen—Mr. Told, 2nd Mr. Coulton, 1st; No. Mr. Monkhouse, 2nd; Mr. Told, 1st.

Dr. D. J. Valentine, M.C., M.B., B.S. (Lon.) D.T.M. and H. (Eng.), I.B., will deliver a course of lectures (for women) on First Aid, commencing tomorrow, Friday, at St. John Ambulance Headquarters at 6.30 p.m. It is emphasized that these classes will be continued only if the attendance is regular and there are a sufficient number of candidates to warrant their fort.

BRIDGE NOTES

Suit And Notrump Slams

By Ely Culbertson

CHINA MAIL—SPECIAL

It is better to bid a Grand Slam in a suit than in notrump when there is any possible doubt of the contract being made. At suit bids it is often possible that one or two extra tricks can be won by ruffing, whereas at notrump those ruffing possibilities would not be present.

But the notrump Slam does require one or two of the honors of the Sham which is bid with a trump suit. In the first place, a trump suit is eliminated in the second place, the declarer who plays a Grand Slam at notrump need not fear that one of the defenders is void of a side suit and can ruff one of his Aces.

To-day's deal ranks as one of the major tragedies of the game, but despite his half fortune South has some reason to hold himself accountable. At notrump the tragedy would not have occurred.

East Dealer. Both side vulnerable.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs).

East South West North 1D (1) Pass 2H (2) Pass 4D (3) Pass 4NT (4) Pass 5NT (5) Pass 7D (6) Pass Pass (7) Pass

1—A powerful hand, but short of a two-bid.

2—Though the club suit is stronger in top cards, North properly shows the higher ranking suit first. By bidding one more than necessary, he properly forces to game and shows his hand contains at least 3½ honours.

3—This is a skillful use of the Jump Trump. Rebid by means of which South shows a nearly solid suit which lacks at most one of the four top honours.

4—This conventional bid shows two Aces and a King of a bid suit.

5—The conventional response showing two Aces.

6—North can now count thirteen tricks with almost complete assurance. South has six diamonds and the Ace of hearts, and North has four immediate top honours. He knows that if the heart suit is not solid South can probably ruff out the clubs and thus develop the two additional tricks which would be necessary.

North's bid is quite correct for he does not know that South holds the King of hearts as well as the Ace.

7—South should not have passed. If North was strong enough to bid the Grand Slam in diamonds, South can be assured of having at least thirteen top cards in the combined hands. South should have bid seven notrump, thus saving himself from the danger of either six diamonds in one hand against him or a first round ruff of some side suit.

Having criticised South's final pass, I must hesitate to say that despite his error South did not deserve the hideous punishment which befell him. West, realising it was hopeless to expect East to have an honour-trick, made the opening lead in which he felt East might be able to ruff. He led a low club and to his delight East ruffed. East returned a heart and West pounced on it with a trump. From then on the defence was automatic and until East had ruffed three club leads and West three heart leads, poor South could not make a trick.

There are sound reasons for the widespread acceptance that has been accorded, "Dodwell Installations" by Architects, Engineers and Building Owners. Among these reasons the following are noteworthy:—

1. On definite specifications our prices are competitive.
2. We do not submit work or pay our staff post-war rates. The danger of scamped work is therefore eliminated.
3. All jobs are supervised by European Craftsmen.
4. In the absence of a specification, all systems are designed with a view to giving trouble-free service and low upkeep cost.
5. We do not undertake a job, with the view of submitting the lowest tender.

ROYAL SCOT FOR DERBY BUT THERE ARE OTHER PONIES

J. Hubert Stevens, Lake Placid, New York, veteran jockey, stands out in a sport which requires nerves of steel and plenty of courage. In 1932 he was America's best in the Olympic Winter Games at Lake Placid and expects to be up with the leaders on the Olympic run in Germany.

ARSENAL FAVOURED TO WIN CUP PENSIONERS ENGAGE COTTAGERS BARNESLEY CARRY BEST WISHES OF JUNIOR CLUBS

Although London has four side over the draw for they have Clubs still in the F.A. Cup competition only one match in the Fifth Round, which will be played next Saturday, will be played in London and that will be at Stamford Bridge where Chelsea entertain Fulham. A real London "Derby" this and the Chelsea ground is likely to be taxed to capacity. Chelsea's two previous victories in the competition were over Second Division Clubs, Norwich 3-1 (after a 1-1 draw at Norwich) and Plymouth Albion 4-1. Fulham have beaten Brighton 2-1 and Blackpool 5-2. Arsenal certainly have a grumble against the deities who pre-

DUNBAR & DYNASTY CHALLENGES HEM STRING SHOULD DO WELL UNDER MR. NEEDA DAWN STAR CHINESE HOPE

(From The Valley)

FOR the past week now all the griffins have been given fast work to do in preparation for the Annual Race Meeting which opens on Saturday week.

The grass track is in perfect condition and, with a few exceptions, all the ponies have been tried out on this track. This year our Derby griffins are numerically less than before but, judging from the morning gallops, several of the newcomers possess that quality which serves to maintain the high standard of local racing.

Notwithstanding all the formidable strings possessed by Chinese owners at different times, only Mr. Ho Kom Tong's President Hall, with Mr. Encarnacao up, has succeeded in winning the much-coveted honour. Incidentally, Mr. Encarnacao is here again and will be riding for Mr. Eu Tung Sen, and I feel sure that all racing enthusiasts will wish him the best of luck.

This year the Chinese will be again strongly represented in the Derby. There is Rosemary, Mr. Eu Tung Sen's candidate, which is said to be capable of great things. She is a nice looking chestnut mare, the only thing not in her favour being that she is only five, and it is a notorious fact that young ponies are extremely delicate things and are all too susceptible to injury if worked too hard.

Mr. G. A. Harrison, above, will be riding Royal Scot, the favourite, in the Derby next Monday week.

RECREIO "A'S" BADMINTON WIN OVER ELIOT HALL

Fire Brigade Lose Without Shute

C.R.C. BEAT ST. JOHN'S COMFORTABLY

Recreio "A" maintained their superiority in the Men's Doubles Badminton League by defeating Eliot Hall "B" by 6 games to 3 at King's Park last night.

The Fire Brigade R.C., without one of their best players in E. L. H. Shute, who was unable to play last night, proved no match for St. Andrew's "A", who defeated them by 7 games to 2 at St. Andrew's Church Hall.

At Causeway Bay the Chinese R.C. easily overwhelmed St. John's Club by 7 games to 2.

Detailed results of the three games were as follows:—

CORRESPONDENCE

Old Timer's XI Under Fire

(To The Editor, "China Mail")

Sir,—May I have a little space in your well-known paper so that I can reply to "Old Timer's" letter regarding the best past and present Indian footballers in the Colony.

I have been playing football for quite a long time and I am now too old to participate, but I am still very interested in the game.

I can't see how on earth "Old Timer" picked that forward line. In defence "Old Timer's" suggestion is the best possible, but in the forward line I can't see how Hamel and Rahmin were included.

Older residents will remember the sparkling exhibition given by Bandran, as inside-left, for the Islamic team. Bandran, as a player, was very tricky and could have made many openings for young Omar to shoot a lot of goals.

Now regarding the left-wing position, R. M. Azim, who has been selected as one of the reserves, would no doubt have made a better left-winger than Rahmin. Although Rahmin had speed, he was not tricky enough, whereas Azim not only possessed speed but was very tricky and could shoot well with both feet. His centring was always well directed. I saw him play for St. Joseph's first team three or four seasons back when he gave a fine performance and scored the only goal for St. Joseph's against South China.

The following is my best team: U. M. Omar; M. H. Abbas and A. Sabban; S. A. M. Sopher, A. Hamid and O. M. Omar; R. M. Omar, E. A. Moosdeen, A. M. Omar, Bandran and R. M. Azim. Reserves: B. A. Hyder, K. M. Omar, Mohamed Rumjahn, S. A. Rumjahn O. el Arculli (Radio) and M. H. Hassan (Radio).

"EX-PLAYER"

EASY WIN FOR D.B.S.

On their own ground yesterday the Diocesan Boys' School beat Queen's College in a friendly cricket match by 107 runs.

D.B.S.: 153 for 6 dec. (F. J. Lay 76, A. Dudley 27).
Queen's: 46 (Dudley 4 for 7).

KENT'S RUGBY DEFEAT

London, To-day.—In a friendly Rugby match yesterday, Wiltshire beat Kent by 13 points to nil.

GUNNERS TOO GOOD FOR THE HOCKEY CLUB

Second Battery Win Fast Game

KISHEN SINGH SCORES FOUR GOALS

The score of 5 goals to 3, in favour of the 2nd Battery, H.K.S.R.A., was a good indication of the run of play in the match on the Marina ground yesterday when the Battery had the better of the Hong Kong Hockey Club. The score in the first half was 3-1 in favour of the Battery. Carey scoring for the Club.

The Battery monopolised the play for the first 15 minutes, in the course of which Kishen Singh, the fast Battery leader, scored three goals. Lt. Garthwaite and Kishen Singh scored again after the interval.

The slippery state of the ground (as the result of the rain on the previous day) was not conducive to good hockey, and most of the players found it rather difficult to keep their feet with rubber shoes on.

Missed Open Goal

Lt. P. de Ramus, on the right-wing for the Battery, sent across some very good passes, though he had the misfortune to see Teja Singh miss an open goal from one of them. On the whole, however, the Battery forwards played quite a good game with Ramus, Kishen Singh and Garthwaite outstanding.

For the Club, Bates, at centre-half, was very hard working, while Tetley was also prominent for some good work. On the few occasions that he got away, Carey was dangerous. He scored two of the Club's goals, while Divett netted the other.

Club:—E. F. Shields; J. E. Potter, G. Sommer; J. L. Cotesworth, E. A. Bates, J. L. Tetley; A. A. R. Botelho, L. Pracht, G. E. R. Divett, D. Carey and D. L. Nooy.

2nd Battery:—Sewen Singh; Dalip Singh, Darshan Singh; Harman Singh, Bachan Singh, Srichan Singh; Lt. Ramus, Aya Singh, Kishen Singh; Lt. Garthwaite, Teja Singh.

W. E. GRIEVE & H. D. BIDWELL FOR COLONY RUGBY XV?

The New Zealand Universities Rugby, touring side will play a return match against Hong Kong on their return trip to-morrow week, when the Colony should have much stronger opposition to put against them, for not only will the Army XV players be available but also W. E. Grieve and H. D. Bidwell.

THEIR LAST BRAWN CUP MATCH

"Y" Ladies Entertain C.R.A. Ladies

MISS BRADBURY AND FARO LEAVING

The "Y" Ladies' junior team will play their last Brawn Cup fixture this afternoon when they encounter the Central British Association Ladies at King's Park.

The "Y" Ladies should win comfortably as in their first clash, on December 7, when they won by two clear goals.

Two of the "Y" Ladies will be making their last appearance in the series this afternoon, Miss V. Bradbury, the captain, who is leaving for Home to-day week, and Miss D. Faro, who is also shortly leaving for Home.

The following are the probable teams:—

C.R.A. Ladies:—Miss M. Adam; Miss D. Mitchell and Miss B. First; Miss L. Buchanan, Miss B. Moss and Miss G. MacNider; Miss E. Woolley, Miss O. Peters and Miss N. Kempton.
"Y" Ladies:—Miss P. George; Miss M. Gardiner, Miss D. Faro; Miss L. Murray, Miss R. Ingram, Mrs. Kemp; Miss W. George, Miss K. Tonge, Miss V. Bradbury, Miss J. Stryk and Miss E. Holloway.

FOOTBALL COUNCIL MEETING

Committee To Select New Hon. Secretary

The appointment of a successor to Mr. M. L. Railton, Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Football Association, who is soon leaving Hong Kong on transfer to Tientsin, was discussed at a Council meeting held last night and presided over by Col. H. C. Harrison, the Chairman.

As several names were nominated, among whom were Messrs. A. Chapman, J. Elliot, W. E. Hollands, G. T. Stokes and O. Smith, it was decided that a committee composed of Messrs. Wong Ka-tsun, J. Shepherd and Lieut. Chaplin, together with the Chairman and the Hon. Secretary, be left to deal with the matter.

It was also decided that a presentation be made to Mr. M. L. Railton, prior to his departure.

TEAMS FOR SATURDAY'S RUGBY TRIAL

Frost To Be Seen At Full-Back

BIDWELL AS CENTRE THREEQUARTER

Two fairly well-balanced teams have been selected for the Probables versus Possibles Rugby match on Saturday at Sookmoo, commencing at 4.15 p.m., in preparation for the return visit of the New Zealand Universities' touring fifteen to-morrow week.

P. C. Frost is at last being given a trial at full-back for the Possibles and in view of his excellent defence, has good chance of securing his place in the team. Preece, of the Army, is, however, playing in his second trial for Probables.

DORSETSHIRE'S RUGBY VICTORY OVER CLUB "A"

Poorest Match This Season

CIVILIAN BACKS AGAIN DISAPPOINTED

(By "REFEREE")
One of the poorest "A" fifteen Rugby yesterday when H.M.S. Dorsetshire beat the Club by two tries (6 points) to nil after leading at the interval by a try.

Chances galore were thrown away by the Club backs, Peers and Archers being the biggest offenders with miserable passing, while the latter was definitely misplaced at fly-half.

Frost, at full-back, and Edwards, at centre-threequarter were the pick of the backs, although Lammert, who made his first appearance at Rugby, was fast off the mark though his passing could be improved.

Ship's Best
Surg. Lt. Kirkwood, despite a "gummy" leg, and Ldg. Sea, Smith were the pick of the Dorsetshire backs, while Opl. Preece was very good at scrum-half.

The Dorsetshire opened the scoring late in the first half when Kirkwood went over wide of the posts for an unconverted try, and Smith added the second late in the second half, this also being unconverted.

COLONY BILLIARDS CHAMPIONSHIP

Two Junior Games For To-day

ONE SENIOR FIXTURE TO-MORROW

Although there are two games in the Junior section of the Colony Open Billiards Championship this evening, the seniors are having a blank day.

At the Club Lusitano Fusilier R. Evans, who drew a bye into the Second Round where he beat Tai Kwai Fat, meets I. T. Yung, who had the better of Pte. R. Owen in the First Round and J. V. da Luz in the Second Round. The winner of this game will qualify for the quarter finals.

In the other game this evening, F. P. Sequeira, who beat S. M. White in the first round, meets Sydney Chan, who qualified at the expense of Lam Ka Huen.

Below will be found the programme for to-day and to-morrow:—

TO-DAY
Fus. R. Evans v I. T. Yung at Club Lusitano.

F. P. Sequeira v Sydney Chan at Engineers Inst.

TO-MORROW
Yan Charn Pong v E. A. dos Remedios at Kowloon C. C.

LOCAL BILLIARDS

Hong Sling Wins Over E. D. da Roza

In the Senior Billiards Championship, W. Hong Sling defeated E. D. da Roza by 500 points to 400 at the Kowloon Cricket Club last night. Roza, chalked up a 64 break, and Hong Sling, a 60.

Tam Bun-hun beat Albert Koh by 300 points to 231 in the Junior Billiards Championship at the Civil Service Cricket Club, and also broke this season's record by chalking up a 46. At the Sports Club J. E. Noronha, defeat Lam Shui-fun by 300 points to 233.

ARMY CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM RACE

The Inter-Unit cross-country team race was held yesterday and resulted in a win for the Punjab Regiment, though it was an H.K.S.R.A. man who finished the race first.

The course was from Kai Tak Aerodrome to the Kowloon Golf Club and back, a distance of approximately 4½ miles.

It has already been reported that everything has not gone serenely with Rosemary and, judging by her last gallop over 1¼ miles (41.2, 120.1, 200.3, 236.0, 310.0, last quarter 34), I cannot say that she likes her work on the grass track. Still, with more practice on the grass course, I dare say that she will turn out to be one of the most dangerous contestants in the big race. Another candidate from the same stable is Donovan, a small chestnut stallion.

Messrs. Kong Bros. will be represented this year by a formidable string of ponies, including Dawn Star, Old Star and Gay Star. The first named is a good looking grey mare and is the daughter of Wild Life, who, it will be remembered, (Continued on Page 10)

Birth Control

The visit next week of Miss Margaret Sanger (Mrs. J. N. H. Slee) and the announcement that she will give a public lecture on "Birth Control" suggests a survey of the present position of this important question. At any rate we may congratulate ourselves that it is one of the many subjects that are now capable of open discussion in place of the frigid reserve which used to be considered the proper attitude even when there was no rigorous suppression. The modern man, and still more the modern woman, insists on the right to be informed about any question that intimately concerns health and happiness, and it would be difficult to find one that is of deeper concern than the decision as to how many children they are to be responsible for, with due regard both to their own right and to the children's right to a satisfactory life. Our visitor belongs to the early pioneer generation when the contest was not only with argumentative opponents but with the arm of the law in at least some of the States, as it had been in England in the campaign of Charles Bradlaugh and Mrs. Annie Besant, who subsequently changed her opinion.

The view that the controversy is one that must be left for final conclusion to the individual conscience is probably triumphant in most countries, but it is not yet clear which of the arguments pro and con will carry most weight in the future. It is not for a moment to be supposed that so fundamental a point of morality will be discussed or considered by arguments suggested by the public interest. We do not live for the State; we create States and Governments for the purpose of securing the requisite conditions of a good life, as Aristotle told the world long ago. There is no such control possible if a man or woman feels bound to let nature take its course, and there the matter ends for him or her.

Most of the present discussions do not concern themselves with abstract generalisations or authoritative rules, but with the standard of living. The competition for work and wages is keener than ever, and a large family is a big handicap in the struggle to pay rent for a good house, to secure an adequate education for the children, and to put something away for a rainy day. It is here that one of the first paradoxes of experience reveals itself, for foresight and providence are most noticeable in those who are above the "want line." They are the effect of hope for a higher standard, or at least the maintenance of a standard that has become habitual. If the claims become too pressing and such hope is lost there is a general decline of efficiency which adds to difficulties and leads to despair and failure. On the other hand some people who are naturally good managers do succeed in fighting through, and it is notorious that a large family has many educational advantages for its members. The unknown quantity of character cannot be left out.

As in other social controversies, it is difficult not to refer to Mussolini, because he pushes his theories to their logical conclusion. The "totalitarian State" claims that the citizen

JACOB Hunter's record, which makes him with the Great Fathers of his State, still lives in the oral traditions of his descendants. The old patriarch, who attained to the age of 5 score and 6, was married 5 times and was the father of 72 children. To the last, he preserved a full set of teeth, and was a picture of rugged health. The respective ages of his children were so widely spread, that some of the brothers were strangers to one another. It was impossible to gauge the number of Hunter's descendants surviving to the present day, but they are undoubtedly very numerous.

RED REMNANTS IN HOPEI

Heavily Defeated By Official Troops

Peiping, To-day.—It has been confirmed here that the bandit remnants under Liu Kwei-tang were heavily defeated and retreated to a point called Shaohsiao near Chinghsien, close to the Hopei-Shantung border, under the hot pursuit of the Central troops. Liu himself fled to Tientsin, the report stated.

Among the many captives was a bogus commander of the marauders, who victimised the militia of Chinghsien during a round-up on Tuesday.—Central News Agency.

belongs entirely to his community, and that it is his duty to have as many children as possible so that his nation may be strong in competition with other nations. Hence the mass marriages, the letters of congratulation to mothers of many children, the prizes and grants of money. Even in Canada there is a competition going on with a munificent prize for the mother who has most children within certain dates. The horrible vulgarity of the thing is only one aspect. Even if the first prize should be big enough to pay for the upbringing of the children born, what about the other competitors? Have the parents considered the proportion between a prize and the long-continued cost of any worthy start in life? The cost in health to the mother? Are they likely to be the best type of parents?

We do not know enough yet to lay down any safe principles of eugenics. Galton and other writers opened up a new vista for science, but the research on the question, if really careful, has been disappointing. The world owes an incalculable debt to its geniuses and its heroes, but they are exceptional men, and study of their pedigrees does not reveal any rule of thumb for their multiplication. The hero is a man of exceptionally well-balanced brain, the genius is usually one-sided in a useful way, but often a little more specialised development means only that he is a danger or a nuisance.

Certainly the economic test is useless to the enginist. One of the arguments drawn from the greater care of the well-to-do is that birth control means only that the new generation is recruited only from the less desirable elements of the population. If our remuneration in cash was ideally just in giving most money to the most honest and generous that might be a true line of deduction, but nobody would maintain so preposterous a statement with anything like our present arrangements. It might even be reversed. Some people think that the faculty of making money shown by professors is an indication of predatory temperaments that should be classed as dyogenic and not eugenic. There is no indication of anything like unanimity on any branch of the subject.

ECENTRIC LUNCHEON SPEECH

Such was the caption Lord Dunsany suggested might be used for his speech at Grosvenor House last month.

His subject was "The Ruin of the English Language," and his main attack was delivered on the adjectival use of nouns.

He pointed out that no one could tell from this misuse of words whether the eccentricity applied to the lunch or the speaker.

When Miss Marguerite Steen began her speech by talking of "fiction writers" Lord Dunsany bore it with fortitude. But one could detect a faint smile on the face of his neighbour, Lord Berners.

DUTCH SCOT

The forthcoming marriage of Lord Reay to Miss Charlotte Mary Younger, of Melrose, will add still further to the Scottish associations of a young peer who is by birth and education a Dutchman.

Lord Reay is, in fact, a peer both of Scotland and of the Netherlands, and the history of his family provides one of the most remarkable chapters in the story of the Scot abroad.

His ancestor, General Aeneas Mackay, commanded a Scots brigade in the service of the Netherlands in the seventeenth century, and settled in Holland. His descendants assumed Dutch nationality, and eventually became members of the Dutch peerage as Barons Mackay.

Your Daily Smile!

DISTINCTIVE HUSBAND

Woman: "I was to have met my husband here two hours ago; have you seen him?"
Dept. Store Floorwalker: "Possibly, Madam—anything distinctive about him?"
Woman: "Yes, I imagine he's wild by now."

REMEMBER!

Friend, when you stray, or sit and take your ease,
By down, or field, or under spreading trees,
Pray leave no traces of your wayside meal,
No paper bag, no scattered orange-peel,
Nor daily journal littered on the grass;
Others must view these with distaste, and pass.
Let no one say, and say it to your shame,
That all was beauty here—until you came!

DEFENCE FORCES IN BRITAIN

CO-ORDINATION PLEA EXAMINED

MINISTRY REQUIRED TO PLAN IN THREE ELEMENTS AT ONCE

(By Maj.-General A. C. Temperley)

THE recent promise of the Prime Minister that there shall be a debate on defence as a whole before the Service Estimates are introduced will at least secure a further discussion in the House of Commons upon this very important matter.

It was unfortunate that last year when a similar opportunity presented itself all the available time was taken up in discussing the expansion of the Air Force.

To bring the whole question under consideration would be particularly suitable at the present time, since the Government has put the issue of filling up the gaps in our defence prominently before the country at the General Election. The recent concentration of strength in the Eastern Mediterranean has been an object-lesson to those most concerned of how even minor gaps tend to delay administrative machinery at a time when smooth running is particularly desirable.

Questions To Be Answered

While there is almost universal agreement that our defences need strengthening, it is beginning to be realised that more scientific planning is also required if the money to be voted by Parliament is to be spent to the best advantage. There is an uneasy feeling that, though the Services are efficient within the financial limits that have been placed upon them, there are serious gaps in co-ordination which have been accentuated since the air has been introduced as a new element on the battlefield.

There are enthusiastic airmen who consider that the functions of the Army will henceforth be limited to guarding aerodromes, just as there are soldiers who believe that the air forces of two belligerents will have fought each other in a standstill in the first fortnight of a campaign, and the war will be continued by armies as before.

A good deal of clear thinking is obviously necessary before the problems confronting us are resolved. How will mechanisation, air bombing and the increased range of aeroplanes, submarines and the latest gas developments affect future fighting by land, sea and air? Is the balance between the forces to be altered, and, if so, to what extent? Are there to be different scales for the Continent, the Far East, the North-West Frontier and the Eastern Mediterranean? If so, what are they to be?

Down To Fundamentals

We have to get down to fundamentals and examine de novo what is the function of each of the three Services and how they can best be used in co-operation.

There is an even more urgent need for this examination in view of the increased expenditure which is now in process of being sanctioned. One would have thought that an enquiry should first of all have been conducted into the employment of the three Services as a whole before fresh expenditure was authorised on what each particular Service conceives itself to need. Yet such an enquiry is hardly likely, since efficient machinery for the task would be difficult to improvise.

The Committee of Imperial Defence has done much valuable work, and its secretariat, headed by that great public servant, Sir Maurice Hankey, is most competent. But its limitations become obvious when it is remembered that its members are chiefly departmental Ministers, all of whom have full-time jobs of their own. It is quite inadequate for the lengthy and continuous study of large-scale problems.

To remedy this there have been many advocates of a Ministry of Defence. This has always been opposed by successive Governments as being unwelcome from a Parliamentary and constitutional point of view. It is easy to find other arguments to knock down this particular ninepin.

PEPPER CASE TRIAL

Liabilities Of Over
£1,000,000

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS' EVIDENCE

London, To-day.

Losses in the neighbourhood of £1,000,000 were mentioned at the Old Bailey when the Chartered Accountant, Mr. Duncan McKellar, gave evidence for the prosecution in the pepper case.

He stated that the total pepper and shellac commitments at September 3, 1934, were £1,400,000. Of the total subscription of £412,500 to James Shakespeare and Co. as a result of the issue of the prospectus, £209,000 had been used to buy shellac. That payment was actually made before the proceeds of the issue were received, by means of a loan from the Midland Bank.

James Shakespeare and Co.'s liabilities to the date of liquidation were £758,000, and the assets were estimated to realise £233,000. In addition the whole share capital of £425,000 was lost. These figures were based on the directors' estimates, but the position was working out very much worse.

It was the pepper position that brought them down. With forward pepper commitments of £1,000,000, the estimated profit would have been £75,000 if the market price had held, as when the contracts were made. The witness agreed that Bishiryan paid £90,000 out of his own pocket in respect of the pepper liabilities. — Reuter.

MURDER AT DAVOS

Hitler's Funeral Ovation

PURE RECORD OF NAZI PARTY IN GERMANY

CHINA MAIL SPECIAL
Schwering, To-day.

The funeral of the murdered National-Socialist party leader of Switzerland, Herr Wilhelm Gustloff, took place here on Tuesday, the ceremony being attended by Herr Hitler, several members of the Cabinet, representatives of the defence forces and 3,000 party members.

After the funeral oration by the leader of the foreign organisation of the Party Herr Hitler mounted the steps.

"Since 1918 all those that have stood up for their country, out of pure love for Germany, have been constantly menaced, menaced by the ghastly secret of international power," he said.

"The instigators of the murders were in every case members of this same power, which was responsible for the murders of many National-Socialists."

"Never has the National-Socialist movement employed the weapon of terror, and not one murdered opponent mars its record. In Herr Gustloff's case the planner of the murder was for the first time also its perpetrator. It is not Germany that is being harmed by this, but the power behind it, for which it is committed."

"The German nation has lost one of its number in the year 1936, but thereby gained one immortal for the future." — Trans-Ocean Service.

BRITISH TRADE FIGURES

Returns Issued By Ministry

London, To-day.

The preliminary returns of the British overseas trade in January, issued by the Board of Trade, show that imports totalled £70,024,000, against £74,481,000 in December, £61,916,000 in January, 1935, and a monthly average for 1935 of £63,978,000.

Exports totalled £34,480,000, against £34,017,000 in December, £35,481,000 in January, 1935, and a monthly average of £35,498,000.

Re-exports totalled £4,320,000, against £5,432,000 in January, 1935, and £4,605,000 respectively. — British Wireless Service.

"St. John's Review"

ACTIVITIES OF PAST YEAR

The February number of the "St. John's Review," the parish magazine of St. John's Cathedral, which has just been issued, contains, as usual, much that will be of interest to parishioners.

The address of the Chaplain in Charge at the annual meeting is reproduced in full, in which sympathetic reference is specially made to the loss sustained by the community in the departure of Dean Alfred Swann, and to the splendid work performed by the Cathedral Women's Guild under the understanding and inspiring leadership of Lady Pollock. Other subjects include the production of John Massfield's Passion Play, "Good Friday," the Silver Jubilee of King George V, the dedication of the Canterbury Cross and, lastly, the Memorial Service for the late King.

An interesting comparison of the two productions of "Lady Precious Stream," in London at the National Theatre and in Hong Kong by the students of the Hong Kong University, is contributed by R.P. and Lucy A. Lock provides a brightly-written article, illustrated with photographs, entitled "Glimpses of Manila."

H.K. BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

ANNUAL REPORT ISSUED

CONTINUED NEED FOR PUBLIC SUPPORT

The annual general meeting of the Hong Kong Benevolent Society will be held in the board room of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson, on February 20 at 5.15 p.m. Sir William Hornell, C. I. E., has kindly consented to take the chair. The report of the Society for 1935, just issued, recounts several instances in which deserving cases have been helped by the Society. Last year was a very busy one, the report shows that the expenses under each heading have appreciably increased each year since 1932.

The income of the Society during 1935 exceeded that of the former year by over $4,000. However, a large part of this money was derived from non-recurrent sources, and an appeal is made to the general public to continue its generous support of the work the Society is doing.

To-day's Short Story

The Uncooked Goose

By H. A.
Manhood

I WAS employed in painting signposts at the time I said, "I know the routine. Most of the time is spent in cycling from one to the other with a short ladder over one's shoulder and some pots of paint in a carrier in front. A quick lick over with white paint and you return the next day to pick out the lettering. Not exactly exciting, for I was 21, hearty enough to burst a tumbler with a laugh and with a great hairy fist that looked like a French poodle once the paint brush was stuck in it. I certainly hated that ladder—it was like travelling around with the skeleton of your worst enemy—but between us we made that bit of countryside fairly tingle with directions so that you'd have thought that all men were become friends and eager for your company."

Up on the moor one day I'd just got to the point of inventing a combined cycle stand and ladder when a lorry came bumbling along, hesitated at the four ways and charged the signpost like a dog angry at a stick of celery. The signpost broke like celery all right, and although I looked like a saint with white paint all over me, I didn't feel like one as I hopped across to crack a nut or two.

But when I reached the lorry the job was done. An angry negro was hammering the driver with a bit of the signpost, not the thinnest bit either, and the driver was already wrapped in hymns.

BRITAIN'S ASSURANCES
London: In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, was asked if he would give an assurance that the provisions of Locarno requiring that Great Britain should immediately come to the help of France or Germany in the event of a flagrant breach by either of Article XXIII or XXIV of the Treaty of Versailles concerning the demilitarised zone, would be rigidly adhered to as long as the treaty remained in operation, and had not been abrogated by general consent of the parties.

Mr. Eden replied: "The obligations of His Majesty's Government are specified in the Treaty of Locarno itself. His Majesty's Government stands by those obligations, and, as has been previously stated in this House, intend, should the need arise, faithfully to fulfil them." — British Wireless Service.

One case of enteric fever was reported to the Health authorities in the 24 hours ended on Tuesday.

The R.M.S. Empress of Japan is due here from Vancouver and ports-on February 23, and will leave the same evening for Manila.

Mrs. Alfred N. Macfadyen will be the speaker at to-day's public lecture at the Lodge Room of the Theosophical Society, Hong Kong Club Annex, Chater Road, at 6 p.m. Her subject will be "Karma."

A crowded house, with many Europeans, including ladies, in the audience, witnessed the second performance of "Lady Precious Stream," in Chinese, at the Tai Ping Theatre last night. In response to many requests a repeat performance will be given on Sunday night.

Mrs. Lottie Gordon gave a broadcast of Australian and Hong Kong music and songs, including the "Hong Kong Boat Song" and the "Canton Boat Song," from the Government broadcasting station at Manila on Tuesday, February 4.

The next whist drive of the Cheero Club will be held on Tuesday next, beginning at 8.30 p.m., admission 50 cts. each, which includes light refreshments.

On Monday next the Ladies Committee of the Cheero Club are holding a dance at the China Fleet Club, commencing at 8.30 p.m. All Servicemen are welcome; admission $1 each, which includes light refreshments; ladies by invitation only.

"An experienced driver—yes, I said! That's what he told me," the negro swore. "All he wanted was a couple of bars to clear his jetty and he'd be proud to drive for Professor Mambuka—yes, suh! the damned gumpster!"

I didn't stop to listen to the rest. I started the lorry and backed it ready to run down to the police station. Then I slung the bits of my bicycle aboard and made room for the unconscious driver. "Hey, boy, what's the programme?"

I told the negro, but he shook his head. "No time for the splits, son. There's a gaff at Gordontop to-day and Ah'm on m' way."

He looked me over and it was like being robbed and tickled at the same time: "How'd you like to drive for me reglar, ten bob a day and five bob extra every time waymake a stand? There's the lark and memiker." He spread a hand towards the lorry: "Dragon's Juice Ointment: The Unfailing Panacea. Professor Mambuka, Specialist and Necromancer Extraordinary." The painted words were, appropriately, like queer skeletons racing each other over a cliff.

I looked at the Professor. He seemed tough, but genial with it, flashy in his dress, but with a supple kind of dignity as if he'd mixed with princes.

The offer was a good one. I thought I glimpsed the helping hand of Providence. My father had lately married again and I didn't like his choice. No need to say good-bye even. I nodded and the Professor grinned and softened. We left the driver and the bicycle and the ladder and paint-pots all piled in a heap and made for Gordontop.

It worked well to begin with, too. We hopped from one fair-ground to another like a wasp after jam, selling this Dragon's Juice Ointment at half a crown a pot and doing good business, too. The Professor slept in the jam-jar, as he called the lorry, and I camped out under a side canvas. He was just a quack, but he certainly had style and considerable nerve.

After a week's grafting we stopped out on a bit of open country to renew stock I'd been curious about this famous Dragon's Juice from Nicobar till then. The Professor had bought several gross of little black pots and half a hundredweight of lard.

He simply melted the lard down in an old bucket, stirred a drop of almond oil, some turpentine and a dash of sulphur into it, and poured it into the pots. It rattled me quite a bit to see what a fraud it was. I even said something about it, but the Professor had a line of talk all ready. The ointment, he argued, was purely a guide for faith: faith went with its application and through faith anything could be cured. He said the entire medical profession worked on the same principle.

"Do you know what goes into your medicine? No, of course not, but you drink it and believe it's what you need and you're cured. Just the same with me ointment."

I swallowed it at the time, but I couldn't help thinking about it afterwards. The Professor seemed a mild enough fellow apart from this business line of his, easy-going as a robber-bill. He fed himself well and me, too, but every time I ate, after a while, I couldn't help thinking where the brass had come from.

He was superstitious, too, and careful with his funds. I used to wonder why two of his suitcases were so strongly made and heavy. I found out why one day when he was sleeping off half a bottle of brandy. One of them, at least, was damned near full of half-crowns. I guessed that he mistreated banks and paper money.

He used to fiddle-bird at times and explain it away by saying that the moon was in a bad quarter for him.

He was half-sunk with brandy when we ran out of stock—once more and he told me to go get more. (Continued on Page 11)

DISSOLUTION SOUGHT

At the Bankruptcy Court this morning, before the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Lindsell, a winding up petition was brought by Odharmal Girharimal against Messrs. O. K. Gidumull and Watmull, Ltd., the petitioner being represented by Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., and Mr. Leo D'Almada jun., instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva, while Mr. H. G. Sheldon, instructed by Mr. M. M. Watson, was for the opposing parties.

Addressing the Court Mr. Sheldon said that he raised the objection that the petition could not be heard on the ground that the petitioner was $10,000 in arrears on his share capital. He went on to say that he submitted that either the petition be not heard, or dismissed, or that it be held over until such time as the amount owing had been paid up.

After hearing the argument advanced by both sides, however, Mr. Justice Lindsell over-ruled the objection.

Leral Position Stated

Mr. Potter then said that according to law the Court should not deal with allegations or counter-allegations but should confine itself to the point as to whether the partnership could be carried on or not under the circumstances he was going to mention.

He went on to say that the partnership started in 1927 but shortly after that there were some disputes regarding the employment of assistants. An agreement was subsequently reached whereby it was agreed to remedy the irregularities and to establish branches in Canton and Shanghai.

Eventually, however, the partners failed to work together in harmony and the petitioner decided to ask for a dissolution of the partnership.

LABOUR IN MEXICO

President's Advice To Employers

NO COMMUNISM IN THE COUNTRY

Mexico City, To-day.

There is no Communism in Mexico, declared President Cradenas, addressing a mid-night meeting of iron and steel workers at Monterrey, where activities have been brought to a standstill in the last two days owing to a number of strikes.

The President indicated that he did not consider the labour troubles to be due exclusively to labour demands but rather to the unreasonable attitude of the employers.

The President said that owners who were tired of Mexico's social struggle could hand over their industries to the workmen or the Government. That would be patriotic, but not a general stoppage or a closing down.

The owners should take care that the agitation did not place them under any political flag, for that would lead to an armed movement. — Reuter.

MINISTERING LEAGUE

Flag Day Next Saturday

PUBLIC HELP ASKED

On Saturday next, the Ministering League is holding a Flag Day, and though flag days are so numerous that most people are heartily tired of them, it is hoped most sincerely that everyone will be generous to this, one of Hong Kong's oldest and most deserving of charities.

The Hong Kong Branch of the M.C.L. was originally organized by the Countess of Meath with Lady May's help, 25 years ago, and ever since has helped, for the most part, the less well-known charities, both Chinese and non-Chinese, and has always stood firmly in "Service for others."

Amongst other activities the League has pledged itself to keep two cots in the League's Home at

Local Expresses To Have Buffet Car

A buffet car will be placed on the local service of the Kowloon-Canton Railway on Saturday next, February 15.

The inaugural run will be made on the 12.35 p.m. Canton Express on that date, when it will be shipped at Fanning for Sheung Shui. It is intended to use this car as follows:

On Saturdays and Sundays, and on Wednesdays, provided sufficient support is forthcoming, it will be attached to the 12.35 p.m. express to Canton and will be shipped at Fanning for Sheung Shui.

On Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, it will be attached to the 12-noon local train.

It will return to Kowloon every day on the 5.44 p.m. train from Shum Chum.

TEAMS FOR SATURDAY'S RUGBY TRIAL

H. D. Bidwell, who was to a large extent responsible for Shanghai's victory over Hong Kong recently in the Interport series, is now in the Colony and will occupy the centre-three-quarter position in support of St. Clair Ford.

Euman Given Trial

Lt. Euman, of the Navy, who gave a very fine display for Scotland at full-back last Saturday, will be seen as centre-three-quarter in support of Lt. Fraser.

The following are the teams:—

Probables:—Fus. Preece (Army); Fus. Floyd (Army); Sarg. L. Benson (Navy); Lt. Rice-Evans (Army); H. R. McGilchrist (Club); A. E. R. Butcher (Club) and Lt. Hamilton (Army); Lt. Robinson (Navy); W. E. Peers (Club); Lt. Lincoln (Army); P. W. W. (Club); Sarg. Cullinan (Army); Lt. Chapman (Navy); Fus. Morgan (Army) and Cpl. Harrison (Army).

Possibles:—P. C. Frost (Club); Lt. St. Clair Ford (Navy); H. D. Bidwell (Club); Lt. Euman (Navy) and Lt. Fraser, R. M. (Navy); J. Hutchison (Club); G. S. Chambers (Club); M. Light (Navy); S. H. Garrod (Club); Lt. Harrison (Army); A. B. Evans (Navy); E. P. Humphreys (Club) and E. B. Gammell (Club).

Mr. D. W. Macarwan will referee.

ARSENAL FAVOURED TO WIN CUP

Sheffield still have "The Blades" in the competition, though they have had to fight twice to get through each round, eventually beating Burnley 2-1 and Preston 2-0. They should get the better of Leeds United, who knocked out Wolverhampton Wanderers 3-1 and Bury 3-2.

Leicester City have to travel to Middlesbrough and will probably be eliminated. The Borough knocked out Southampton 1-0 and Clapton Orient 3-0, while Leicester disposed of Brentford 1-0 and Watford 6-3.

Although Grimsby are well known Cup-fighters they cannot view the visit of Manchester City with too much relish, for the City can play the most brilliant football of any club in England.

They have knocked out respectable teams in Portsmouth 3-1 and Luton 2-1, while Grimsby have laid low Hartslepool 4-1 (after a draw) and Port Vale 4-0.

Barnsley's Bid

The Second Division have a real chance of one team being in the last eight in Barnsley, who are at home to Stoke City. The Yorkshire team beat Birmingham 2-0 at Birmingham after a 3-3 draw at Barnsley and then put paid to Tranmere 4-2. Stoke have accounted for Millwall 4-0 and Manchester United 2-0 after a draw.

Both the "Spurs and Derby County will visit Bradford to meet giant-killers, but one fancies that both will be in the last eight.

The Uncooked Goose

some lard and get busy on a fresh supply. Thinking it over then, it didn't seem right at all for a black to be gyping white folk the way he was. We whites, after all, argued griggishly, were the salt of the earth. It was reasonable, if not exactly wholesome, for one white man to twist another, but for a coloured rascal to be making for a coloured matter. And black bounce was another matter. It was certainly wrong that I should be helping in the fraud.

I didn't like the idea at all. I decided I'd had enough, but before I cleared out I'd ease my conscience somehow, cook Mambuka's goose for him in a way he wouldn't forget.

I thought it over and worked it out very neatly. While the Professor snored in the lorry I mixed the lard and filled the pots, grooves of them, and in the bottom of each pot I put a half-crown from the hoard in the suitcase. The half-crowns used up, I made up the grooves with a few rods and whistled a bit with glee.

When the Professor sobered up we got on the road again. He was pleased with the way I'd done the job, labels and all. He even offered me a swig out of his brandy bottle, but I told him the moon was all wrong for me.

Sobering up was a careful stepping backwards down a ladder with him, but his spiel wasn't affected in the least.

It didn't take long to sell that particular lot of pots, and when they were nearly gone I cut loose. For weeks afterwards I used to wake in the morning and laugh myself silly to think of the faces of all those grosses of yocks when they found the half-crowns in the bottom of their pots. I'd certainly cooked the Professor's goose all right that time, or so I thought.

It wasn't until eighteen months later that I ran across Mambuka again and saw what I'd really done. For there he was, bold as brass, handing out a new, killing kind of talk with those same little black pots. He'd a deep, husky voice and a heaven-rolling eye that worked like oil and shepherds.

"These among you who doubt the efficacy of this preparation and, through doubting, find that you are not healed—those, I say, will find their half-crowns safe in the bottom of a pot. See!"

He looked up a pot seemingly at random and slammed it down and there, on the ground, among the shards and ointment, was a half-crown.

"Those who doubt and are not healed will be repaid. Can I say fairer? But if you are benefited you will not expect your money back, you will be more than satisfied not to find your half-crown in the pot, knowing the gain in health. Magic! Maybe, maybe, but Ah! forbidden to tell the secret. Remember that nowhere else can you buy this 'miraculous Dragon's Juice, for it is brewed secretly by my own people in Nicobar. Find no half-crown in your pot you will know infallibly that you have benefited. No benefit and your money is there, waiting for you. Could anything be fairer? Come now, my friends."

It worked, of course. He was selling more than twice the number of pots that he had sold in the old days. He'd a girl working with him, handing round the pots. She tried to touch me for half-a-crown. She stared a bit and laughed when I whispered to her.

Professor Mambuka stared, too, to see her wasting time that way, and, seeing me, I'm damned if he didn't let out a hell of a great laugh and hurry across to shake my hand.

"Well, well, well!" he boomed. "Great idea, that of yours." He turned to the crowd: "This, my friends, is one cured by me. Look at him now—cured, I say, and not ungrateful. He will tell you that none of you will find your half-crowns in your pots, and why? Because you will all be cured as he was cured."

I couldn't help laughing at his nerve, at the neat way he'd spiced my guns. But it was a one-sided sort of laugh, for my trick had sort of doubled his trade. He shook my hand again in apparent friendliness, and then, to cap it all, he whipped out a wallet and took out five brand-new one-pound notes, bawling again:

"Look my friends, I give these to him because I am glad to see him so well cured, because he is such a good advertisement for my ointment. Take it, take it."

I took it when he insisted, thinking it would come in useful to get my gear out of pawn and start me on my way to Liverpool. He wasn't such a swine after all.

But I changed my mind later at the pawnshop. Those notes were all duds and the passing of them was one of Mambuka's side-lines. I tried to tell the police about it, but they wouldn't believe me. They gave me three months' Now I'm having to see Mambuka again sometime. Next his goose won't bother to cook his goose. I'll just give him a good bruising and fill him up with his own ointment. The only pity is that the birdies won't show.

"KARLSRUHE'S" VISIT

Successful Party For Children

MANY CANDIDATES FOR THE NAVY

Nearly 50 local children of German and other nationalities, had a royal time on the cruiser Karlsruhe yesterday, when they were entertained by the officers and cadets of the ship. Most of all the cadets took charge of parties of five children each and showed them round the vessel. The bigger boys especially were avid for information, and they all expressed a fervent wish to join the navy at the first opportunity.

A "high tea" in the mess room of the cadets followed, which was much appreciated by the youthful visitors. Races and games followed; the German children present sang a song to the cadets; more cake was consumed; and then the children were told it was time to go home. It was fairly generally agreed among the youthful visitors that a "life on the ocean wave" is the thing.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS

School-Leaving Age
In England

MOTION DEFEATED IN COMMONS

London, To-day.

The subject of education is engaging the attention of the House of Commons for two consecutive days this week. To-day the Government's bill to raise the school-leaving age to 15 will be debated on the second reading, when the bill's provisions for exemptions where beneficial employment is available will come under criticism, which the newspapers anticipate may not be limited to the Opposition benches.

Last evening discussion took place on a private member's motion in favour of a State maintenance grant for children remaining an extra year at school when the compulsory age limit is raised from 14 to 15.

Replying to the debate the Minister of Education, Mr. Oliver Stanley, said that the real reason why many would give their support to the resolution was not strictly educational. It was because there was in their minds the desire, if it were possible, to put a few more shillings a week into working class homes. They were thinking really of the general question of poverty, and the means proposed in the resolution were the most unjust, illogical and anomalous by which to deal with that problem.

The motion was defeated by 199 to 140 votes. — British Wireless Service.

RIOTING IN ZANZIBAR

Question In House
Of Commons

London, To-day.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas, made a statement yesterday in the House of Commons during question-time on the recent rioting in Zanzibar, in which he expressed deep regret at the deaths of Mr. Rolleston and the Indian Police Inspector who were injured by the mob. Mr. Thomas said that the rioting broke out on the morning of February 7. The cause was still uncertain, but appeared to be some dispute which had arisen in connection with the inspection of copra and the strict enforcement of the regulations against adulteration.

On the information at present before him he saw no reason to attach any political significance to the regrettable incident. — British Wireless Service.

TREASURY BAN WAIVED

Belgian Conversion
Operation

London, To-day.

The City is interested in the Treasury's decision to waive the ban on foreign lending in the case of the Conversion 7 per cent. Belgian stabilisation loan, of which £7,500,000 is outstanding, into 4 per cent. bonds at 98½. The underwriting is expected to be completed by the week-end.

It is pointed out, however, that the operation does not involve the export of capital. But only a reduction in the national income from abroad through the lower interest payments.

Despite the anticipated favourable balance of payments for 1935 the opinion is expressed that the Treasury is not yet willing to abandon its control over transactions involving the export of capital. — Reuter.

WEATHER REPORT

The anti-cyclone remains stationary over China and the adjacent seas, and has decreased slightly in intensity. Pressure appears to be highest over the Lower Yangtze Valley. North-east winds, fresh, fine, was the forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory this morning.

DISTURBANCES IN SYRIA

Arrest Of Leaders
Ordered

STUDENTS' DEMONSTRATION
PREVENTED

Paris, To-day.

As a result of the latest disturbances in Syria, the French High Commissioner has ordered the immediate arrest of two Nationalist leaders, whom he accuses of being responsible for the clashes between the native population and the police.

In giving the reasons for this action, the High Commissioner states that he will not tolerate notorious agitators causing bloodshed simply in furtherance of personal ambition.

The students at Beirut attempted to hold a public demonstration, but were prevented from doing so by the police. Nearly all native shops are still closed. — Trans-Ocean Service.

CASUALTY FIGURES

The announcement asserts that alone in the battle of the Tembien region between January 20 and 30, no less than 1,500 native soldiers and 5,123 native soldiers of the enemy forces were buried by special detachments, which the Abyssinian commander was compelled to detail for this purpose.

It is further asserted that 333 British Askaris went over to the Abyssinians in the course of the Tembien battle. — Trans-Ocean Service.

Italy Defends Her Action

COLONIAL EXPANSION MERELY DESIRED IN ABYSSINIA

Rome, earlier: The statement by the Paris Temps, that Italy has withdrawn from the concert of the conservative Powers and by virtue of her African undertaking has forfeited the claim to the playing of a leading role in Europe, meets with violent opposition in Italian political circles, where it is pointed out that Italy's desire to co-operate in the maintenance of European peace is evidenced by the following facts:—

(1) Italy abstained from raising the question of colonial mandates in its entirety, despite the fact that some European States appropriated to themselves new and valuable colonial possessions which by rights belong to the League of Nations;

(2) Italy pursues her aims at colonial expansion merely in Abyssinian territory, where she possesses legally acquired rights which have been recognised by France and Britain;

(3) Italy has, by the repeated declarations of Signor Mussolini, undertaken to restrict the conflict to the colonial sector so long as she is not provoked elsewhere.

ITALY EXCLUDED

In an obviously inspired article the Giornale d'Italia stresses that the Powers who consider themselves the trustees of European peace had on their part excluded Italy from their circle when they left her empty-handed in drawing up the peace treaty of Versailles.

The Giornale goes on to say: "It is very well for the great colonial Powers to brag about conservative peace when all their individual requirements are already fully satisfied. The alleged violation of the League Covenant by Italy is directly traceable to the violation of European justice of which France and England have been guilty by liquidating the Great War at the expense of Italy, and which they are attempting to maintain by perpetuating the present allocation of the world's colonial possessions." — Trans-Ocean Service.

Abyssinians Claim Victory

ITALIAN POSITIONS RE-TAKEN

Addis Ababa: The first reports of victory in the Abyssinian offensive for the relief of Sidamo Province and the Gestro Valley, where the remnants of Ras Desta's defeated army were hard pressed, are now reaching the capital. An official communiqué announces that the

REFORM OF THE LORDS

Far-Reaching Motion
Defeated

LORD PONSONBY ON THE
"SACREDNESS" OF PEERS

London, To-day.

A motion by Lord Ponsonby, in favour of giving Peers the right to vote in elections for, and to offer themselves for election to, the House of Commons was defeated in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon by 27 votes to 16.

In proposing the motion Lord Ponsonby called attention to the privileges of the Peerage fallen into desuetude, and instanced the right of Barons to two, and of Marquesses to five, chaplains, for disuse of which he declined, amid laughter, to offer explanations. At one time the person of a Peer was both sacred and inviolable.

Lord Ponsonby commented that during the period that he had had the honour to be of Their Lordships' House he had not been given any demonstration of this sacredness of his person. He urged that no disability should be allowed to prevent Peers from giving their services, if they wished, to the House of Commons, in which they would be in closer touch with public affairs.

Lord Onslow, opposing, said that if Peers were allowed to become members of the House of Commons it would drain the life-blood of the House of Lords, to which it was the duty of Peers to give their services.

The Lord Chancellor, for the Government, said it was not wise to attempt to deal with the problem of the reform of the House of Lords piecemeal. — British Wireless Service.

BUYING ORDERS FROM U.S.

LONDON RUBBER
MARKET

INCREASING FIRMNESS
IN EVIDENCE

London, To-day.

A feature of yesterday's dealing in Mincing Lane has been the steady flow of buying orders from New York, despite the United States holiday. This demand, coupled with the buying by the home trade and the Continent, resulted in increasing firmness as the day proceeded, with speculators increasingly interested.

Further interest was aroused by the fact that numerous American contracts now coming due have been fulfilled from London stocks, owing to the difficulty of obtaining profitable shipments from the East. Meanwhile the arbitrage business with the United States continues to be encouraged by the higher values ruling in New York. — Reuter.

Abyssinian troops at Ogaden, led personally by Ras Nasibu and the former Turkish General Wehib Pasha, re-took the Italian positions at Curati after a desperate struggle, in which both sides lost heavily.

Supplementary reports from Harar state that the Italians built strong entrenchments between Hararadigit and Curati, these two places, 2½ miles apart, being extremely important because of wells, water-holes and springs.

The Abyssinian attack on this region came as a total surprise, the high scrub enabling the Abyssinians to creep up close unobserved and to cut their way through the Italian wire entanglements. A desperate man-to-man struggle began, which ended in a complete victory for the Abyssinians.

On the northern front the Abyssinians have made all the preparations for an attack on the Italian Makalle front.

GIFTS OF GOLD

Rome: No less than two tons of gold—a quarter of which was contributed by the country population—and 80,000 golden wedding-rings were collected as the result of the recent appeal made by the Fascist Party to the rank and file of the Italian people for help in financing the Abyssinian campaign. — Trans-Ocean Service.
